

Please don't tamper with the NJ Do Not Call registry. It's working great. It's not broken -- don't fix it. Surely the FCC has better things to do than to cave to telemarketer's special interests with money and influence. There are plenty of other advertising avenues for those folks to use.